

A

1-Tony Ables

Was abandoned by his mother at an early age, and was 16 when he first killed someone. Was first convicted in 1971 after shooting and killing someone during a robbery, and then in 1990 was convicted of first-degree murder after beating his girlfriend to death. Years later, with the help of DNA testing he was convicted of two murders committed while he was out on parole; both women were raped and strangled. Currently serving a life sentence.

2-Charles Albright

Raised by his adopted parents, Charles was subjected to an unusual childhood by his mother. She dressed him in girl's clothes, and punished him harshly for misbehaviors. At age 11 she enrolled him in a mail-ordered taxidermy course, and helped him learn how to skin and stuff birds as well as how to remove their eyes. He would later become a high school teacher and was known by everyone as a "very charming man". He killed three prostitutes who were found beaten, shot in the head, and were missing their eyes.

3-Quincy Javon Allen

After acquiring a shotgun he shot and killed several people over the course of two months, including a prostitute whose body he burned afterwards. He confessed that he wanted to become a mafia hit man, but got tired of waiting for the job, which was suggested to him when was previously serving time in prison.

4-Howard Arthur Allen

5-Richard Angelo

Angelo was a registered nurse, and injected seven patients with a paralyzing drug, Pavulon, which injured some of his patients, and killed others. He claimed he poisoned them in order to later save the patients because he wanted to be perceived as a hero.

6-Joshua Julius Anderson

Before killing two of his victims, Rosemary Hobbs and Herbert Hobbs, a mother and son, Anderson made them engage in sexual intercourse. After leaving the bodies at the crime scene, he reportedly returned later, and ate Rosemary's brain. All victims were shot to death.

7-John Eric Armstrong

An enlisted sailor with the American NAVY, Armstrong allegedly killed an unspecified number of women in international ports where he was stationed. Most of his victims were prostitutes and died by strangulation. Abused as a child by his father whom later abandoned the family, at age five John rode his bike into traffic in a suicide attempt because he claimed he wanted to be with his baby brother, who died at 2 of SIDs.

8-Benjamin Atkins

His victims were all young, female African America prostitutes. He was homeless at the time of the crimes, and is said to have been suffering from crack addiction. All the victims were strangled during sex; which is how he got them alone, by hiring their services. He had a history of sexual abuse, and a disturbing childhood. His mother, who was a prostitute, used to perform sexual acts in front of him.

B

9-Anthony Balaam

A Power and Control killer, Balaam targeted women who were looking for crack. He would bargain with them, and offered crack in exchange for sex to get them alone. Detectives said that under interrogation he constantly mentioned the “power” he had over these women.

10-Clinton Bankston

Bankston committed the murders in two separate occasions. First in 1987, after an attempted robbery he killed two retired college professors in their home. Then a year later, he brutally murdered another couple during a robbery. After stabbing them to death, he butchered them with a hatchet to hide their identities.

11-Cesar Francesco Barone aka Adolph James Rode

Born Adolph James Rode, he changed his name after getting out of prison as a teenager for charges including breaking and entering, drug abuse, and attacking elderly people. As a child he got into numerous fights with other kids in kindergarten, some of whom he threatened with knives and poked cigarettes. Rodes, who then became Cesar Francesco Barone, briefly shared a cell with Ted Bundy, something he bragged about later. Barone’s crimes included the attempted murder of both his stepmother and grandmother, attempted rape, and the rape and murder of several older women.

12-Herb Baumeister

A husband and father of 3, Herb started frequenting gay bars in 1993, and around the same time gay men started disappearing around town. The owner of one of the bars later reported that he looked very uncomfortable when he was there. A man whom Baumeister had once invited to his home for sex while his family was away reported him to the police after he became suspicious of the disappearances, since when he was involved with Baumeister they engaged in autoerotic asphyxia, a sexual practice involving suffocation. Baumeister disappeared after a brief encounter with the police, and was found eight days later having shot himself.

13- Patrick Baxter

Baxter was already serving time in prison when he was linked to three unsolved murders with the help of DNA evidence. The three young women were raped then murder.

14- Howard Milton Belcher

Belcher murdered several gay men after having sex with them. At least two of the victims were found with their hands tied behind their backs with a necktie. His victims were usually found in their homes, either strangled or bludgeoned to death, and in several occasions with the gas oven on. Belcher was HIV positive, and repeatedly asked for the death penalty during trial.

15- David R. Berkowitz

The self titled "Son of Sam" was a New York City shooter who sent letters to the police and the press during the murders. David was a Satanist who believed the devil would set him free through the murders. He is now a born again Christian.

16- Norman Bernard

17- Richard Biegenwald

A troubled child, at age 5 Richard tried to set fire to his house, and was sent to psychiatric facility. For the next 10 years he went from reform school to reform school with no improvement, then returned home at age 15. For the next three years he was involved in multiple robberies and car thefts, and at 18 shot and killed someone, and was sentenced to life in prison. He got out on parole 17 years later, and went on a killing spree that resulted in the death of 5 people. In court he said that he did it because he "wanted to see someone die", earning the nickname the "the thrill killer".

18-Jake Bird

Bird was implicated in 40+ murders in at least four different states in a period extending over 20 years. Not all were confirmed even though he confessed to them. Most of the murders he committed while using an axe, but for others he was only the lookout. Born in Louisiana, he moved around the country performing odd jobs, and never settled down. Over the years he served about 15 years in prison for crimes including burglary, assault, and attempted murder, until he was hanged for murder in 1949.

19- Rodney Troy Bixler

Bixler had been serving 29 years in prison for murder when he received an additional 40 years for two other counts of murder. All three victims were women.

20-Terry A. Blair

At the time of his arrest, Terry Blair was out on parole for the murder of his pregnant ex-girlfriend. All his victims were prostitutes' and the causes of death were mostly unclear because the bodies were badly decomposed when they were found. During trial Blair was described as a "calculating killer determined to kill as many [prostitutes] as he could]”. The bodies were found after Blair started calling the police and reporting the locations of the dead bodies.

21- William Bonin

The “Freeway killer” targeted young boys between 12 and 19, and was sentenced to death on fourteen counts of murder. Some of his victims were hitchhikers, some were prostitutes, and some were just at the wrong place at the wrong time. All victims were robbed, raped, and dumped in a California highway. Some of the victims showed signs of torture, and most were stabbed and strangled. His first victim was stabbed 77 times, and he was found and apprehended while raping a 14 year-old boy in his van. During trial an expert determined that Bonin was a sexual sadist, and suffered from Antisocial Personality Disorder. As a child he was sexually abused in a detention home, and engaged in “violent nonconsensual homosexual activity” while serving in Vietnam. Before the highway killings began, he served time in prison for sexually assaulting five teenage boys; he was paroled in 1978, and the killings started a year later.

22-Dallen Bounds

23- Lucious Boyd

The son of a prominent, successful family, Boyd was a historically violent man. Before his 1999 arrest for the rape and murder of Dawnia Dacosta, whom he stabbed 33 times, he had been accused of rape, attempted murder, and murder. He was acquitted of the murder of his ex-brother in law by claiming self defense. Even though he was only convicted of one count of rape and murder, he was the primary suspect of several other such crimes but conclusive evidence was never found.

24- Eugene Britt

Britt raped and murder several women, including three minors, an 8 year old, a 13 year old, and a 14 year old; however he was only convicted of three those crimes as a result of a plea bargain deal. The judge decided he couldn't be sentenced to death due to mental retardation. Britt had previously served 15 years in prison for the rape, and robbery of a high school teenager. During interrogation he said he was abused by his father as a child, who also abused his mother. Furthermore, he claimed that “a thing” told him to commit the crimes, and instructed him in how to dispose of the bodies. Unlike other serial killers Britt didn't have a specific type, his victims varied in age, race, and body type; and were all women with the exception of one. He was an opportunity killer.

25-John Brooks

26- Shelly Andre Brooks

Brooks killed seven prostitutes, all African American. Under interrogation he admitted to paying the women for sex; then, over disputes regarding the payment, he would get into physical fights with them, and accidentally killed them. However, police reported that all victims were raped, beaten to death, and dumped in abandoned buildings. One of the investigators hypothesized that the murders were connected to the abusive childhood. Brooks lived with his mother, who was also a prostitute. He was convicted of seven counts of premeditated murder, and six counts of felony murder.

27- Curtis Don Brown

He was first arrested for the murder of Jewel Woods, outside her apartment in Fort Worth, and 19 years later plead guilty to the kidnapping and murder of two other women. The plea was in exchange of the prosecuting not seeking death after DNA evidence connected him to the murders.

28- Robert Charles Browne

Youngest of nine children, Browne had victims in nine states, Washington, California, Colorado, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana. Five years after he was arrested for the murder of a girl, through a series of letters to the police Browne told them about his victims and where they could be found. Victims included both men and women, but the majority were petite women averaging 5 feet and 120 pounds. He expressed disgust for women citing their lack of morality, as well as their tendency to cheat and be unfaithful. His killing methods included strangulation, chemicals like chloroform, as well as shooting and stabbing. Not all crimes were corroborated by the police.

29- Vernon Brown

He was arrested for the kidnapping and murder of 9-year-old Janet Perkins, and later confessed to the murder of another woman. Police suspected he was involved in other unsolved murders in the area. He had previously been convicted of sexually assaulting a 12-year-old girl, and served time for the crime in the early 70s. He was also accused of repeatedly sodomizing his stepsons, seven and nine year olds at the time.

30- Eugene Broxton

31- David Lance Bruce

32- David Bullock

Bullock, a male prostitute, told the judge that he committed the murders because it made him happy, and it was fun. He described his crimes to the judge showing no remorse. All his victims were shot to death.

33- Theodore (Ted) Robert Bundy

An attractive man by all accounts, Bundy was described by all who knew him as "nice and charming young man". He preyed on young women across the county, whom he would rape, strangle, and mutilate. It is believed that he engaged in necrophilia, and would visit the sites where he left the victims and engage in sexual acts with them until decomposition or wild animals made it impossible. He decapitated several of his victims, and would keep their heads in his apartment as trophies. He was an incredibly violent man, who at times would simply break into people's houses and bludgeoned them to death in their sleep. In 1975 he was arrested on kidnapping charges, but escaped prison in 1977 while awaiting a murder trial. In early 1978 he went on a killing spree before he was captured again, and sentenced to death. He was executed in 1989. His crimes extended over several states: Washington, Utah, Florida, Colorado, Oregon, Idaho, and California.

C

34- Ricardo Caputo

In 1971 Caputo, an Argentinean immigrant, was arrested for the murder of his girlfriend, but after he was deemed incompetent to stand trial and diagnosed with multiple personality disorder he was sent to a mental institution. While on temporary furlough, he escaped custody, and after a couple of other murders he moved to Mexico. Over the years he moved back and forth between the United States and Latin America, got married, and had children. 20 years later, he returned to New York City and confessed to his crimes because he feared that the personality that had committed those crimes was going to resurface again.

35-David Carpenter

Over a nine month period, Carpenter killed 7 people, six women and one man, along some hiking trails in California. Most of the women were raped, and all victims were shot. Before he became a suspect in the murder, Carpenter had repeatedly served time in prison for a string of sexual offenses and parole violations. With the help of DNA testing, Carpenter was identified as the killer of another victim, Mary Frances Bennett, who was raped and killed in 1979. During the sentencing phase of his trial, Carpenter was diagnosed with Mixed Personality Disorder with borderline narcissistic and antisocial features. Sources reported that during his childhood Carpenter was abused and neglected by his parents, causing him to become aggressive with animals, develop a stuttering problem, and wet the bed. By the time he was 17, he had been arrested for molesting two young cousins.

36- Charles Lendelle Carter

Carter confessed to four murders, three women and a man. Two of the women were stabbed, one was strangled, while the man was shot. At one point he had wanted to kill his children, so that they wouldn't grow up to be like him. At the time of his arrest, Carter lived with his mother, and worked as a cook.

37-Jarvis Catoe

In 1941 he confessed to killing several women, but didn't seem to know the exact number, he said between seven and ten. All victims were choked to death. During his interrogations he told the police he had "an uncontrollable desire to murder" which he got after reading detective stories or sex crimes, and looking at pictures of women.

38-Harvey Louis Carignan

Once he was arrested, Carignan told the police that God had commissioned him to “degrade and kill” certain women, and that he got cough because God was displeased because some of the women wouldn’t die. He was first arrested for rape and murder in 1951, and was sentenced to death in Alaska, but the sentence was overturned when it was ruled that the police had coerced the confession. He was resentenced to 15 years in Alcatraz, from where he was released in 1960. After his release, he was sent back for 15 years in 1965, and used his time to get a high school degree and take some college courses in Psychology and Sociology. After he was paroled, and after two marriages, in September 1974 Carignan assaulted multiple women whom he raped, and beat with a hammer. In addition to his murder victims Carignan also raped 10 other women.

39-Hadden Clarck

Clarck was homeless, but worked a variety of odd jobs in the Washington area at the time of his last arrest. Those who knew him described him as lacking social skills but seeking acceptance. He desperately needed to fit in. He was the member of a Baptist church and routinely attended bible studies. In 1985 he was discharged from the military after he was diagnosed with paranoid schizophrenia manifested with persecutory and grandiose delusions. In his writings and letters he claimed that his cross dressing tendencies started when he was forced to dress as a girl by his parents as a child, and molested by them and their friends. However, delusion and reality are blurred for him in these writings and even his name changes sometimes, and so these events are not likely to have occurred. In the same writings he has confessed to a number of murders and acts of cannibalism; and claimed responsibility for the disappearance of Michelle Dorr, a 6-year old who had disappeared in the area. In 1999 he started confessing about other women he had killed, he can’t agree on an exact number, but the police believe the number could be up to 12. He said he kidnapped, tortured, killed, and cannibalized these women.

40-Richard Chase

The delusional Chase believed that he was being hunted by the FBI, the Nazis, aliens, and other powerful entities, and to kill him, they had poisoned his bathroom soap with something that would pulverize his blood, and so to stay alive he believed he had to consume fresh blood. According to records, as a result of a marriage battle that ended with his parents divorce, as a teenager Chase started using drugs, drinking, and killing small animals for their blood, and in 1976 he was committed to a mental institution after trying to inject himself with rabbit blood. A year later he was released to his mother, and again he started to kill small animals, and taking their blood and guts, which he would put in a blender and then consume. He then started killing humans; women and children were killed so that he could drink their blood and eat parts of their bodies. When he was arrested, there was blood all over his apartment, human residue in his blender, and human body parts and brains in his fridge. At least one of his female victims was sodomized.

41-Elroy Chester

Chester shot and killed a firefighter after he was found raping the man's two teenage nieces after breaking into their family home. Ballistic tied the weapon to four other murders, to which he later confessed. Three of the other victims died during burglaries, and the other one was his brother in law.

42-Sam Chinn

43-Gregory Clepper

Clepper was charged with 12 counts of murder and three counts of aggregated sexual assault; with most of his victims being drug addicts and prostitutes. It is believed that the murders were a result of business gone wrong at least in some of the cases; and Clepper killed the women after altercations arising from his refusal to pay their fees after services were rendered. During the trial the Police dropped 11 of the charges for lack of evidence. Clepper confessed to one of the rape and murders and received an 80-year sentence.

44- Louis Craine

With an IQ of 69, Crane was charged with the murder of five women, and convicted in four of the charges. All women were strangled, and the murders were part of series of 15 murders attributed to a killer the police and the media were calling "The Southside Slayer". The murders were eventually attributed to three different killers including Crane.

45-Nathaniel Code

Code was first charged with five counts of murder, but after more evidence resurfaced, he was charged with three additional ones. All deaths occurred after he broke into victims households in three separate occasions. The victims included men, women, and children, as well as Code's own grandfather. Some victims were shot, some were stabbed, some were beaten to death, and another one was partly straggled and drowned in a bath tub. All the victims were African American, the same as Code.

46- Alton Coleman

Abandoned in a trash can by his mother as an infant, Coleman was physically and sexually abused by his grandmother, before growing up to kill eight people with the help of his associate Debra Brown. As a child, Coleman was forced by his grandmother, who practiced Voodoo, to collect dirt from cemeteries and kill small animals so she could use them for her rituals. Four of his victims were children; including a 7 year old, a 9 year old, and a 15 year old. His victims were beaten or strangled to death. His associate Debra Brown, was reported to have an IQ under 79, and is currently serving a life sentence.

47- John N. Collins

Collins was a student at Eastern Michigan University during the time of the murders between 1967 and 1969. Even though he was ultimately convicted of only one of the murders, that of Karen Sue Beineman, he is believed to be responsible of five of the seven "Coed Murders" committed in that time period. Karen was strangled and beaten to death, but the other murders included sexual abuse as well as mutilation. Collins was arrested after blood matching Karen was found in his uncle's basement, whose house he had been sitting during her murder.

48- Dellmus Colvin

During trial Colvin confessed to the five murders in exchange for the prosecution not pursuing the death penalty. All five women were prostitutes suffering from crack addiction. All the victims were either strangled or smothered, and her bodies were wrapped in blankets before they were dumped. He became a suspect after a prostitute he attacked gave details to the police leading to his arrest.

49- Daniel Conahan

The investigation on Canahan began after one of his victims, Stanley Burden, managed to escape. He offered the victim money in exchange for naked pictures. He then took Burden to a park, managed to tie him to a tree, and proceeded to perform oral sex on him. Conahan then tried to sodomize the victim, but Burden managed to reposition himself on the tree, and Canahan's attempts were unsuccessful. Canahan then tried to strangle the victim with a rope, but again his attempts were unsuccessful, and he left. Burden went to the hospital, and after contacting the police, they started an undercover investigation. They then linked Conahan to a murder where the victim, a young man very similar to Burden, was strangled while tied to a tree, and has his genitals removed. He was convicted of only one murder, but is suspected of over a dozen more.

50- Rory Enrique Conde

After having sexual relations with prostitutes, in six different occasions he strangled them in his apartment, and dumped their bodies on the side of the road. He was arrested after another prostitute was found bound and gagged in his apartment by the fire department. It is believed that these murders were caused by a psychotic break caused by his failed marriage after his wife discovered he was involved with prostitutes. All his neighbors were deeply surprised with the arrest; they described him as a guy next door, and a very nice man.

51- Anthony Cook & Nathaniel Cook

The brothers were in custody and about to stand trial for the death of 20-year old Thomas Gordon when they confessed to nine other killings. They confessed as part of a deal, and in return they wouldn't face charges for the other murders. Anthony Cook was involved in all nine murders, while Nathaniel Cook allegedly only took part in three of them. The victims included a 12 year old girl that was raped and beaten to death, as well as some couples, some of whom were shot or beaten to death. Some of the other female victims were also kidnapped and raped before they were killed. They were connected to the cases after their DNA was matched to semen found on some of the victims. While the brothers are African American, all victims were white.

52- Samuel James Cooper

Cooper was arrested during an attempted bank robbery, and ballistics connected his weapon to five unsolved homicides. The defense argued that Cooper was traumatized by years of abuse at the hands of his father, and was suffering from Post Traumatic Stress Disorder. His sisters testified in his defense, claiming their childhood with their father was “like living with the devil”. Cooper was described as distant and emotionless during both the interrogation and the trial, and confessed to the police that he always aimed for the head to make sure his victims didn’t “talk”.

53- Richard Cottingham

Richard Cottingham was a family man, married with three children when he was arrested for murder, kidnapping and assault. He murdered two women in New Jersey, and three in New York. The New York victims were mutilated; their heads, hands, and feet were all cut off. In addition to the murders he was also charged with three counts of kidnapping and murders in New Jersey. In 2010 he confessed to the 1967 murder of a mother of two, Nancy Vogel, whose case had been cold for years. Cottingham came from a good family, with no history of abuse, and his murders were a surprise to all who knew him.

54- Juan Covington

Apparently Covington’s problems began in 1990 after the death of his father. He became depressed and started taking medication. Reportedly he would dress in military uniform and walked around the neighborhood as if “hunting for something nobody else could see”, and apparently told relatives that there were certain people he couldn’t trust because they were possessed. After he was arrested for a shooting caught on camera he confessed to two other killings; one of them a Baptist minister whom Covington thought was using “witchcraft” to cause him physical pain. The police suspected him of at least one more murder and a disappearance, and was charged with two other attempted murders. Covington confessed to the police that he killed those people because he was “The Chosen One”, and had to “exterminate the devil”.

55- Scott Cox

Cox was convicted of the murders of two Portland women, Reena Brunson, and Victoria Rhone, who were found stabbed. At the time Cox was a truck driver working between Canada and Mexico, and suspected of at least 20 other murders. He was released on parole after serving 20 years out his 25 year sentence.

56- Andre Crawford

Crawford was charged with the rape and murder of 11 women, and the rape and attempted murder of another victim who managed to survive. All victims were stabbed, strangled, or beaten to death after he offered to give them crack in exchange for sex. The defense claimed that the murders were a result of a deep hatred for women Crawford developed as a result of the physical and sexual abuse he suffered as a child at the hands of his mother and in foster homes. However, none of this evidence was corroborated because relatives and other people involved were either dead or refused to cooperate with the defense team.

57-Charles Cullen

Charles Cullen was a nurse with a 16 year career, and practiced in both Pennsylvania and New Jersey in 10 different facilities before his arrest in 2003. He confessed to having killed over 40 people in those 16 years without offering any reason as to why he did it. After making a deal with the prosecution that would take death of the table, he helped the police identify his victims, but at times was unable to remember some of them. Cullen was the youngest in a family of eight children, and grew up without a father, who died when he was still an infant. His mother died when he was 17, he then dropped out of high school and joined the Navy. After his discharge he became a nurse and started practicing. He claimed he was depressed from an early age, and attempted suicide about 20 times in his life, the first time when he was only 9. He told the police he killed some of the people due to his inability to kill himself, but at other times claimed that he was saving them from pain and dehumanizing experiences.

58- Andrew Cunanan

A highly intelligent individual, Cunanan spoke two languages, and from an early age managed to live a life of luxury and comfort by supplementing his odd jobs by working as a male prostitute, and getting involved with older man who could supplement his lavish lifestyle. He entered the police radar after he shot famous designer Gianni Versace in his Miami home. The crime had witnesses who later identified him, allowing the police to make the connection with other murders around the country. Eight days after the FBI posted a reward for his arrest, Cunanan shot himself in Miami. He was one of four children raised by his mother after his father abandoned the family. His other victims were all man, at least three whom he had been romantically involved with.

D

59- William H. Davis

60- Jerome Dennis

At 14, in 1981, Dennis was sentenced as an adult to 30-years in prison for rape, criminal restraint and armed robbery. He was released in 1991 after serving the mandatory 10 years of his sentence, and less than a month later, the murders started. Dennis was identified after a taskforce was formed following the discovery of several bodies during an eight month period. At least three of the five dead victims were raped, and all bodies were dumped within blocks of each other; one of the victims was a 16 year old high school girl. Dennis was the 7th of nine children, and was raised primarily by his mother in a housing project in Newark, NJ.

61- Albert Henry DeSalvo

DeSalvo is said to have been suffering from severe mental illness at the time of the murders, including split personality disorder and possibly schizophrenia according to the doctors who examined him. All the victims were bound, and sexually assaulted before and after their death. During trial the defense never claimed innocence, but argued that DeSalvo was incompetent due to severe mental illness. They attribute some of his issues to severe maltreatment during childhood; it is said that his father beat him, and would force his wife to have sex in front of the children. Allegedly, DeSalvo was on occasions found hurting animals as a child. He was in the army for a couple of years, and fought in Germany. He later married and had children, and the marriage ended after he was imprisoned for improper behavior. He would go around knocking on doors, posing as a photographer and offering money in exchange to measure ladies. His I.Q. was measured at around 96 or 97, and the Doctors said his sexual "deviancy" had been developing from an early age.

62- Ronald Dominique

Dominique is suspected of raping and killing at least 23 men in Southern Louisiana over a decade. He confessed to some of the murders and in exchange the prosecution didn't seek the death penalty. He would lure the men to his house with promises of sex, drugs, or sex with a woman; allegedly he would ask to tie them up and those who refused he allowed to leave unharmed, but the ones that agreed, he would rape and murder.

63- Charles Lee Duffy

64- Joseph E. Duncan III

Duncan was the second youngest of five children. According to his sister's testimony, Duncan and his siblings were severely beaten by their mother as children. Their mother was reportedly obsessed with religion, attended church every day, and constantly complained about men's worthlessness. Duncan's victims were normally children whom he would kidnap and later kill; his adult victims were usually killed while he was trying to take the children. He was arrested in 2005 after he kidnapped a 9-year old boy and his younger sister; after weeks in the wild where the children were sexually abused, he killed Dylan Groene but returned his sister home. After he was arrested he confessed to murders of three other children; 9, 10, and 11 year olds respectively.

65- William H.T. Durrant

The entire city was jubilant when the verdict was reached. Durrant was sentenced to death for the murder of two women, Minnie Williams, and Blanche Lamont, who were both found naked, stabbed and strangled. Durrant was the last person to be seen with both victims, whose bodies were found less than a week apart, both in a church.

66- Paul Duroseau

E

67- Walter E Ellis

Ellis was arrested in a motel in 2009, and was charged with 7 murders after his DNA was matched to the ones found on the victims. All seven women were prostitutes, and all were raped and strangled. He was the main suspect in the murder of an eight murder of a teenage prostitute but was never charged.

F

68-Lorenzo Feyne

Feyne was arrested after police officers followed a trail of blood from a house where Faith Davis had been murdered, and a fire had been started. They arrested Feyne, and once at the station he confessed to the murder of Faith Davis and that of four other victims, Aree Hunt, Fallon Flood, Glenda Jones, and Latonda Dead. All five victims were women, and all were raped, some of them before they died, and in at least one of the occasions after the victim was dead. One of the victims was strangled with a belt, and died in an abandoned locker room at a local high school, while the rest were all stabbed and were found in their homes. Three of the victims were teenagers, and one of them a six year old girl. Feyne was both physically and sexually abused as a child, and during the pregnancy his mother is reported to have used both drugs and alcohol. His mother and stepfather repeatedly beat him, and as a child, a neighbor raped him. There is a history of mental illness in the family, and his father was committed to a mental institution as a diagnosed schizophrenic. Experts determined that he had suffered brain damage from the beatings he was subjected to, and had a very low I.Q.

69- Albert Fish

70- Wayne Adam Ford

Ford was arrested after he walked into a police station and confessed to killing four women. His brother, who had encouraged him to confess, was accompanying him at the time. When he arrived at the station he was carrying one of his victims' breasts in his pocket. All four victims were women; three of them prostitutes, and the fourth one a hitchhiker. Some of the bodies were dismembered, and most were dumped in California waterways, while at least one, he part buried, part stored in his freezer, and part dumped. During his confessions he said that women died while he was having rough sex with them, and said that he had engaged in the same activities with other women, but had let them go. While confessing he cried at times, and said he didn't mean to harm, and asked the police to please stop him from harming others.

71- Kendall Francois

Francois killed eight women, all of whom were involved with drugs or prostitution. The police became interested in him after a woman he strangled escaped and went to the authorities. After the women were dead, he kept their decomposing bodies in the house he shared with his family for two years. The bodies were kept in a basement crawl space as well as the attic. Before his arrest Francois worked at a school as a hall monitor. During his interrogation he confessed that he knew all the women from previous encounters and that he killed them because they “angered him” or “tried to rip him off”.

G

72- The Frankford Slasher

The murder was never caught, but there are nine victims attributed to him between 1985 and 1990 in the Frankford neighborhood in Philadelphia.

73- John Wayne Gacy

Gacy was convicted of killing 33 men between the ages 14 and 21. Gacy was a contractor, but also worked as a clown at children events and fundraisers. All victims were raped before they were murdered, and a rope was used to strangle most of them. He was arrested after the police started investigating him regarding the disappearance of a young boy; and upon a search of his home the police found the bodies of 26 of his victims stuffed in a duct. Reports from his childhood show he had signs of antisocial personality disorder possibly resulting from abuse by his father. Before his arrest he was charged with several sexual offences, including sodomy, for which he only served two years before he was released on parole.

74- Carlton Gary

Gary was sentenced to death after he was charged with the rape of eight elderly women, and the murder of seven of them. While Gary was African American, all of his victims were white. The rapes and murders were committed after or during burglaries. During interrogation Gary claimed the crimes were committed by an associate, but that he was present at the time.

75- Alfred Gaynor

A handyman, Gaynor was convicted of the sexual assault and murders of eight Springfield women. Some of the victims were found in their homes, while others were found in cars or on the street. Some of the victims were crack addicts who Gaynor met on the streets, while others were single mother whom he robbed for crack money before killing them. All women were bound, and were found with clothing objects like socks down their throats. The police described the assaults as something beyond sexual gratification. Gaynor blamed the crimes on crack, which he once described as his “first and only love”.

76- Hubert Geraldts

Geraldts was arrested after his sister turned him into the police after finding a body in the trash at the family home. He was ultimately charged for the murder of six women, the sexual assault of one of the victims, and the attempted murder of another woman who managed to escape. All victims were sexually assaulted and strangled. He wasn't identified or arrested after one of his victims escaped because she gave false and misleading information to the police to avoid revealing her drug problem to her family. All the victims were known drug addicts would occasionally exchange sex for drugs; and Geraldts argued that the killings were transactions gone awry. During trial it was established that he had an IQ of between 59 to 73. Before his arrest he even bragged about the murders to a neighbor who assumed that he was joking. He was originally sentenced to death, but his sentence was commuted by Governor George H. Ryan to life in prison without the possibility of parole.

77- Jeffrey Lee Guillory

78- Lorenzo Gilyard

Originally accused of the rape and murders of 13 women and girls, Gilyard was ultimately tried for seven of the cases, after the prosecution handpicked the strongest ones. All the victims but one showed signs of sexual assault, and all were strangled and found without their shoes. Some of the victims were known prostitutes in the area, and all ranged between 15 and 36 years old. Between 1969 and 1974 Gilyard was the suspect in five rape cases, including child molestation, but was never found guilty. He was arrested in connection with the cases in 2004 after the evidence was finally tested for DNA.

79- Mark Goudeau

Goudeau is currently serving 400 years and nine death sentences for the murder of nine people, and the sexual assault, robbery and kidnapping of several others. All except one of his victims were Hispanic women with light skin; his other victim was a man who found himself at the wrong place at the wrong time. All the women were shot in the head apparently because they wouldn't "submit their bodies" to Goudeau according to reports. His victims were all between 19 and 39, and ranged from school teacher, to prostitute, to stay at home mom, and a restaurant worker. During the sentencing phase of the trial the defense tried to argue that Goudeau's behavior was the result of an unconventional family; according to reports his father had about 20 biological children as a result of his infidelity. However, Goudeau's wife of 20 years denied all this saying that all her husband's memories from childhood were happy ones. Two years before his arrest for the murders, in 2004, Goudeau had been released from prison after serving a 13 year sentence for kidnapping, robbery, and assault.

80- Ronald Grey

A member of the United States Army, Grey was executed in 2008 after waiting on death row for about 20 years. In 1987 he pleaded guilty to 22 felonies including two counts of murder and five rapes, and was sentenced to life. However, in 1988 he was convicted of 14 other charges and sentenced to death. His victims included two members of the U.S Army, and all four were women. They were all raped and sodomized before they were repeatedly shot.

81- Harrison Graham

Graham was arrested after his landlord, who kicked him out of his apartment because of the bad smell, discovered the bodies of several women in one of the bedrooms. During a two year period, Graham sexually abused and strangled 7 women whose bodies he then stashed in his spare bedroom and left to rot. During his confession Graham explained that he lured the women to his house with the promise of drugs, and then strangled them during sex. Evidence presented during trial revealed that he was mentally retarded, which later caused his death sentence to be commuted to life in prison.

82- Cleo Green

83- Vaughn Greenwood

Even though ultimately he was only convicted of nine counts of murder, he was originally charged with eleven, because the jury wasn't able to reach an unanimous decision in the remaining two cases. Greenwood killed all his victims by cutting their throats in such a savage way that they were opened from ear to ear, and even cut through their spines. This earned him the nickname "slasher". Reports from the crime scene indicate that he might have been drinking the blood of his victims, since there were empty bloody cups found at the scene. Furthermore, detectives reported that the scenes seemed ritualistic; Greenwood removed all the victim's shoes and arranged them to face the dead, and there was also salt sprinkled around. All the victims were male transients and victims of opportunity that were left scattered around the Downtown Skid Row area of Los Angeles.

84-Geoffrey Griffin

Griffin was charged in the murders of seven women, but was only convicted of two of them in 2005. All the bodies were found decomposing in abandoned buildings around two Chicago neighborhoods. All the women were reported to have lived high-risk lifestyles including prostitution and drug abuse. Autopsies revealed that all the women had been strangled, beaten, or stabbed, and according to Griffin's confession, at least one was sexually assaulted.

85-Vincent Groves

After turning himself into the police in 1981 for the murder of a 17 year old girl, Groves was convicted of second degree murder in 1982 and sentenced to 12 years in prison. However, he only served 5 years, and was released on parole in 1987. In 1988 he was arrested again for two murders, and was ultimately sentenced to life in prison, where he died of natural causes. All his victims were young females, some of which were known prostitutes and all were strangled. They were found naked or only partially dressed in the mountains or fields surrounding Denver, or in alleys around the city. In recent years the police have been able to attribute more unsolved murders to Groves through DNA testing of archived evidence. Groves grew up in the suburbs in a stable family; his mother a music teacher and his father a member of the military. Detectives in the case have described Groves as intelligent and charming.

H

86- William Hance

Hance beat two prostitutes to death after they solicited him. He then proceeded to hide the bodies, and sent letters to both police and newspaper claiming that "The Forces of Evil", a group of white men, had kidnapped the women and that if the culprit wasn't cough or if $10,000 weren't given to "The Forces of Evil" the women would die. Eventually the mutilated bodies were found after phone calls were made to the police telling them the locations of the bodies. Hance, a marine soldier, was arrested after someone told the police that he was seen with one of the women the night she disappeared. He was later linked to the murder of another young woman in Indiana, but was never charged with the crime. Hance is reported to have had a history of erratic behavior, and appeared to be mentally unstable; however he was never evaluated by the court, and was allowed to serve as his own council. Witnesses for the defense testified that Hance was under stress; he had recently divorced because of financial problems, and his mother had recently died from an assault and rape.

87- Kevin Haley (With Reginald Haley)

Kevin was charged with 31 felonies including kidnapping, robbery, burglary, rape, and murder. He was charged with the rape and murders of two women, Dolores Clement, 55 and Laverne Stolzy 56 years old respectively, as well as the murder of a 17 year old girl who was shot while running to catch a bus. Laverne and Stolzy were attacked during burglaries in their homes, Stolzy died of a blow to her head while Clement was strangled.

The brothers are suspected of up to 60 rapes and 500 burglaries in the area during a 5-year period.

88-Reginald Haley (With Kevin Haley)

Reginald was charged with 26 felonies including robbery, kidnapping and rape. The brothers are suspected of up to 60 rapes and 500 burglaries in the area during a 5-year period.

89-Ralph Harris

During nine armed robberies and attempted armed robberies Harris shot eleven men, killing six and injuring five. Additionally, he raped six women at gun point, and robbed nine others. His record showed a long history of violence and delinquency; he was constantly in and out of jail or in probation for most of his life. During trial his family testified to him having a normal and happy childhood with no history of abuse.

90- Lester Harrison

Harrison confessed to the murders of four women, three who were sexually assaulted, and one who was cannibalized. After he was found not guilty by reason of insanity in one of the murders, the prosecution charged him as a sexually dangerous person. He was consequently sentenced to prison until he was no longer a danger to society. During the police investigation police found the “trophies” Lester kept of his victims; there were envelopes with newspaper clippings from the respective murders and some body hair from the victims.

91- Dewayne Lee Harris

92- Michael Darnell Harris

93-Donald Harvey

Harvey worked as a nurse’s aide at Drake Hospital, where he killed 25 people. Harvey confessed to murdering his victims by poisoning them with arsenic; however, that he did it to lessen the suffering of people who had no hope of recovery. Harvey’s murders would have gone undetected if not for a policy that required victims of fatal car accidents to have autopsies. So when the body of John Powel, a patient receiving long-term care because of car accident injuries was examined, traces of arsenic was found, and an investigation was started. Harvey was soon charged with the murder, and confessed to having killed approximately 70 people. According to his testimony, his crimes began as a teenager, when he was working as a hospital orderly at Marymount Hospital, and accidentally hooked up a patient to a nearly empty oxygen tank. He then began to do this on purpose. A victim of sexual abuse during childhood, Harvey attempted suicide twice, and when asked if he regrets anything, his only answer was “I regret getting caught”.

94- Thomas W. Hawkins Jr.

Hawkins was sentenced to death for the rape and murder of his niece, 14-year old Andrea Thomas. Andrea was sexually assaulted, stabbed with a fork, and strangled with a telephone cord. Hawkins had previously served 6 years in prison for the death of a 15-year old girl, Karen Stubbs, who was also stabbed and strangled. According to his testimony Stubbs’ death was accidental; he tried to perform a tracheotomy with a paint brush after he accidentally strangled her. He is also the suspect in the disappearance of another young woman, but has never been charged.

95-Timothy Hawkins

96-William George Heirens

Heirens, then a 17-year old student at the University of Chicago, and was arrested for burglary, and later charged with murder in connection with the kidnapping and murder of a 6 year old girl. He became a suspect in the murder of Zuzanne Degan after his fingerprints matched the ones found in a ransom note left in her bedroom. Police believed that she was strangled in her bedroom and then taken; her head was found in a sewer, and the rest of her body scattered around the neighborhood. He was later charged with two additional murders, that of Josephine Ross and Frances Brown. His nickname "the lipstick murderer" originated after a note written in lipstick saying "For heaven's sake catch me before I kill more. I cannot control myself" was found at Brown's crime scene. Heirens had a history of breaking and entering as a teenager, which he later confessed he did in order to play with women's underwear. He told reporters that his mother had convinced him that "sex was dirty", and that when he kissed girls, he would cry and throw up. Until the very end he held that he was innocent, that his confession was beaten out of him, and that he was forced into a plea deal in order to avoid the death penalty.

97-John R. Henry

Henry stabbed his girlfriend, Patricia Roddy, 20 times in the front seat of her car while her children watched from the back. He was convicted and did seven years in prison before he was released. He then started doing drugs again, and during an argument killed his wife Zuzanne. He then kidnapped his son Eugene, who was 6 years old. According to reports, he bought the child food, and sat him on his lap, where he stabbed him while smoking crack.

98- Monroe Hickson

99-Clarence Hill

Hill was convicted of killing six people; three couples who had been in secluded spots known for their privacy. At least in one of the cases the female victim was sexually abused, and all couples were cheating on husbands and wives. All victims were shot with the same weapon, a 12-gauge shotgun. The police assumed the killer was a religious fanatic who was killing these people as part of some righteous moral delusion, and eventually arrested Clarence Hill, a Sunday school teacher who lived in the area. He was convicted of all the murders and sentenced to life. Eventually he was pardoned after the involvement of the ACLU, he had been tortured into confessing to the crimes by the police.

100-Ivan Jerome Hill

Hill raped and murdered eight women, dumping their bodies around the San Gabriel Valley. The crimes went unsolved until 2003 when the DNA evidence was finally analyzed and pointed to Hill. In 1993 and 1994 while the murders were happening, Hill would call 911 to taunt the police with messages like "you better catch me before I do it again", or "I did it again". As a child he witnessed his father shooting his mother, who did not die. His mother testified that Hill was physically abused by his father as an infant. He was originally convicted of six murders, but later confessed to two more.

101-Johann Otto Hoch

Hoch was a German immigrant who came to the United States in 1890s, where he proceeded to marry at least 50 women in 15 years. He would arrive at a new town with an assumed identity, woo and marry a woman, then either leave her or kill her, taking on her last name and stealing money and other valuables. He was only ever charged with one murder, that of Marie Walker, after traces of arsenic were found in her body thanks to new techniques. The police believe he killed at least 15 people.

102-Willie James Hodges

Hodges killed three women, one in Florida, one in Ohio, and one in Alabama. So far he has only been tried for the Florida murder, and is currently serving a death sentence, but authorities from both Ohio and Alabama have connected him with their respective cases. The Florida victim, Patricia Belanger, was stabbed and bludgeoned to death with a hammer, after Hodges broke into her house through a window. The other two murders occurred under similar circumstances. Women were found dead in their homes after apparent burglaries.

103- Raymond Hopewell

With an apparently normal and abuse free childhood, Hopewell grew up to be a crack addict who preyed on the elderly. All his victims were connected to his life, either through family or friends, which he used to get into their homes. Once inside, he beat and raped the women before strangling them; his only male victim was not sexually abused, but was beat and strangled like the others.

104- Harry Howard Holmes

*Real name Herman Mudgetts

Holmes is considered by many to be America's first serial killer. As a child he is reported to have capture animals in order to perform "surgery on them", and according to some accounts he might have killed another child. He went to the University of Michigan Medical School, before he was expelled for stealing corpses. He then moved to Chicago in 1886 where he gave himself the name H.H. Holmes, and started working as pharmacist under the pretense of being a doctor. Around the same time he stated killing people in order to steal their money. Eventually he built a house, which is now known as "murder castle". The house was equipped with gas chambers, soundproof rooms, trapdoors, and other elements that allowed him to torture and dispose of people with impunity. He got involved in insurance fraud, and would force his employees to take life insurance policies with him as the beneficiary, so that when he killed them he could collect the money. He is also reported to have seduce women and become engage with them, only to kill them after he had taken their money. He was eventually caught after his insurance schemes took him across the country and he was apprehended in Boston for the murder of one of his associates.

105- Vincent Hudson

Hudson was homeless at the time of his arrest, and was living in a homeless shelter. His three victims were women who engaged in "high-risk" lifestyles. All were raped, beaten and strangled. He was previously sentenced to five years in prison for sexual assault, and so his DNA was already in the system, and matched the ones found on the victims.

106-Michael Hughes

Hughes targeted women on the streets, usually with drug problems. Originally he was only convicted for the murders of four women, all who had been strangled. But thanks to DNA testing, he was later charged with four additional murders, all of whom had been raped and strangled. His later victims included a 15 year old girl who was on her way home to school. According to witnesses, Hughes was severely beaten as a child, and even witnessed a forced abortion performed on his mother.

107-Thomas Huskey

Huskey was found guilty and sentenced to 64-years in prison for the rape of four women, and even though he never denied the murders, the court decided that he couldn't be held legally liable for them. The bodies of four prostitutes were found in some woods by hikers, and Huskey was arrested in connection because two prostitutes had accused him of raping and robbing them in the same woods. He wasn't charged for those crimes because the women refused to testify. All four women were prostitutes and were raped and strangled. Even though Huskey confessed to the murders and the police found trophies he had kept from the victims in his house he wasn't found guilty of the murders because his defense successfully argued that he was suffering from Dissociative Personality Disorder and the murders were committed by another identity, Kyle; and the judge didn't allow his confession or the trophies to be allowed into evidence. His nickname comes from his former job at a zoo.

I

108-Sameul Ivery

Ivery was arrested after walked into a gas station, locked the door, and proceeded to bound and decapitate the clerk, Deborah Lewis. Since there was camera surveillance, his defense was based not on his innocence, but on insanity; his lawyers claimed he was a paranoid schizophrenic acting under the delusion that he was the "Ninja of God". He was later charged with two similar murders in St Louis, and additional ones in Arizona and Los Angeles.

I

109-Calvin Jackson

Eight women were found dead in their rooms at the Park Plaza Hotel. The hotel was a cheap, rent by the month establishment, and it took the police a while to realize that electronics were missing from the apartments. Jackson, who also lived in the hotel, was connected to the murders after someone saw him carrying a TV the same night of the murders. After he was arrested he confessed to all eight murders, and said that he raped the women sometimes before and sometimes after their deaths.

110-Charles Junior Jackson

Even though he was suspected to eight murders, and linked by DNA through several of them, Jackson was only convicted for the rape and murder of a college professor. All his victims were women, and all were raped and stabbed. He would get his victims by going door to door offering handyman services, and attacking women who he found alone. He had previously served time in prison for rape, burglaries, and child molestation.

111-Elton Jackson

All twelve victims were male, some were gay, some were drifters, and all had been last seen around a gay bar. All the victims were found naked, and at least ten of them had been strangled.

112-Ray Shawn Jackson

After he was arrested, Jackson confessed to all six murders, and in exchange the prosecution didn't seek the death penalty. All victims were women, they weren't sexually assaulted, and died by strangulation. They were left all over Kansas City, and in some cases the women's clothing was removed. Jackson became a suspect after a woman with whom he had been seen with was found dead later that day, witnesses gave a sketch to the police, and he was recognized by one of his neighbors.

113-Wilbur Jennings

Jennings convictions include assault, robbery, arson, kidnapping, rape, and murder among others. All victims were women, some of them prostitutes, and were found around canals or ponds. They were all sexually assaulted, and beaten to death with a blunt object. In at least one occasion the victim's house was set on fire by Jennings after he kidnapped her. He had a long history of sexually abusing and assaulting women despite testimony saying he was a god worker and a good person. As a child he moved around with his mother and three siblings after his parents' divorce. Years after he was convicted he was linked through DNA to the rape and murder of an elderly woman.

114-Keith Jespersen

Jespersen, a truck driver, murdered at least eight women across at least five different states. All the women prostitutes, and were strangled repeatedly before they were finally killed. He was the middle child in a family of five children, and claimed that he was physically abused by his father, and later sexually assaulted by someone else. He was married with children at the time of the murders, and received the nickname "Happy Face Killer" after leaving messages to the police with happy faces in them.

115-Johnny Ray Johnson

Johnson was first arrested for the rape and murder of one woman, Leah Smith, who was beaten to death. After he was arrested he confessed to the rape and beatings of at least 13 other women, at least two of whom had died, including his 8 year old niece. He later recanted all his testimonies.

116-Melvin Johnson

Johnson died in Texas before he was identified as the murderer in two different cases. In one of the cases, three little girls were abducted; two were found dead, while a third one was found alive. All had been sexually assaulted. Johnson's DNA matched the one found at the scene when it was finally tested. Through more DNA analysis, he was linked to the rape and murder of two women in 1985 and 1988. He had a history of child molestation, and had served time in prison for taking liberties with a minor.

117-Milton Johnson

Johnson was first convicted of rape and murder when he was 19 years old. He served 13 years and got out in 1983, and began his killing spree. He was ultimately convicted on five counts of murder, but is a main suspect in at least nine months. In some of his victims were sexually assaulted, the unclimbed both men and women, but the men were victims of chance, and the women the real victims. Most of the victims were shot.

118-Vincent Johnson

Johnson, who was homeless at the time, was linked through DNA to six murders. All the victims were women, and all were strangled with random objects including shoelaces, electrical wire, and a draw string from a pair of pants. The bodies were all found in Brooklyn, some in rooftops, apartments, or in vacant lots. Some of the women were prostitutes, and all were sexually assaulted.

119-Bryan Maurice Jones

In 1987 Jones was convicted of rape and kidnapping, and was serving time in prison when he was linked through DNA to the murder of four prostitutes. All the women were raped and found in trash bins next to his apartment, and at least two were set on fire.

120-Daniel O. Jones

121-Henry Lee Jones

Jones was serving two death sentences in Tennessee for the murders of Clarence and Lillian James, a couple who was found gagged, stabbed, and strangled in their home. He now faces charges in Florida for another similar murder to which he was linked.

122-Jeremy Jones

Jones is the primary suspect in at least thirteen murders in at least five states. All the victims were women, some of them known prostitutes, and varied in age between 19 to 47 years old. Victims were shot, stabbed, or strangled.

123-Jeffrey G. Jones

124-Sydney Jones

125-Anthony Joyner

Joyner was convicted on six counts of murder, as well as six counts of rape and burglary. All the victims were elderly women between 80 and 92, and all lived in a Philadelphia nursing home. He was a kitchen worker at the nursing homes when the crimes were committed.

K

126- Theodore Kaczynski "The Unabomber"- Dates of operation conflict on sources. Some list 1979-1996 others have 1978-1992. The Unabomber was a brilliant person but secluded himself in a small cabin where he began sending bombs in the mail, killing 2 and wounding 23 others.

127- Arohn Kee- Kee received 22 counts of murder, rape, sodomy, and robbery for his crimes against young women. Kee was linked to the crimes through saliva DNA that was left on a cup that he had used in jail. Kee would burn the bodies of his victims beyond recognition.

128- Horace Kelly- is a photographer that is known for raping and murdering 2 aspiring models using a firearm to kill his victims. He also shot an 11-year old boy that was trying to save his sister from being abducted.

129- Edmond Emil Kemper "The Coed Killer"- liked to kill animals as a child. Ed Kemper killed both his grandparents at the age of 15. He engaged in necrophilia with the corpses of the hitchhiking women he killed. He was extremely intelligent scoring a 145 on the IQ test. He would hang out at a bar with the police officers who were pursuing him. The police who became friends with him began to call him big Ed because he was 6 feet 9 inches tall and weighed 280 pounds. The police would not believe him when he called to confess to being the Coed Killer. Kemper killed his mother and had sex with her decapitated head.

130- Anthony Kirkland- after murdering his victims he would burn them to conceal the DNA because he would rape the women.

131- Randy Kraft "The Scorecard Killer"- A Homosexual, he killed 16 hitchhiking men, originally he had a republican ideology but in college changed to a left wing democrat.

132-Timothy Krajcir- This killer was so calculated that police often wondered if they were hunting one of their own. The victims were found in their beds, bound, raped and shot in the head with few clues left behind.

133- Postel Lansky "Cincinnati Strangler"- Originally received the death penalty, because of the moratorium of Furman v. Gregg, Lansky's death sentence was revoked. He was up for parole in 2007 but was not allowed because of the public's outrage. He is known as being comparable to the Boston Strangler; he would rape and strangle his victims who were mostly elderly.

134- Derrick Todd Lee "Baton Rouge Killer"- Authorities warned that he was the killer but police dismissed the warnings because they thought they were looking for a white man. This killer would watch victims for a period before invading on their homes to rape and murder them.

135-Devernon Le Grand (With Steven Legrand)- Le Grand was a reverend that had a following of "nuns" who would go and ask for money on the street. This was more like a cult and less like a church. Devernon possibly killed his wife but denies this saying she moved to Africa

136- Steven Le Grand (with Devernon Legrand)- Devernon's son committed the murders with his father which included dismembering bodies.

137-Raymond Lisemba "Rattlesnake Killer- He killed his wives in order to collect insurance on them. Raymond got this idea when his mom left him money after her death. He was the last man to be executed in California before the gas chamber was introduced.

M

138- Richard Macek "The Mad Biter"- He committed rapes and rape-murders that included stabbing drowning, strangulation, mutilation, biting, and necrophilia in various combinations. The attacks were ritualistic, with precise knots, precise cuts into the flesh were cut and bite marks were left, he also took souvenirs. He had his teeth pulled before being arrested so that he could not be traced to the murders.

139- Edward George McGregor- This serial killer would kill his victims by drowning them in their bathtubs dumping their purses and taking the contents. He was acquaintances with his victims because he was usually the last call on their phone.

140- Anthony McKnight "East Bay Killer"- This killer was already serving a 63 year sentence for attempted murder of three women when DNA evidence lead investigators to the murders of 5 other women.

141- LeMarques Devon McWilliams- One of the dumbest murderers, McWilliams had his last victim tied up in his trunk of his car when he got stuck in the mud. McWilliams got his victim out to drive the car while he pushed the car out of the mud. The victims sped off once the car was free. After the capture of this deviant his DNA tied him to several other crimes.

142- Matthew Emanuel Macon- As a child Macon has been in a number of different homes through foster care and has been in an out of prison 2001 for rape and parole violations. He failed to comply with the terms of his parole and register as a sex offender in 2007 and was arrested again, and was charged with the rape and murder of six victims. He was convicted of the crimes and sentenced to two terms of life without parole. In 2010 he filed an appeal and claimed he was deprived of effective council as his attorney failed to call any witnesses, the court denied his appeal.

143- John Malvo "D.C. Sniper" (With John Muhammad)- Malvo was the young shooter who terrorized the country in 2002. These two would drive around and use a sniper rifle to kill their victims. In an interview Malvo claims to have been sexually abused by his older accomplice Muhammad. Among the many victims a young boy aged 13 years old was shot standing in front of a middle school

144- David Edward Maust- This serial killer was practically abandoned by both his mother and his father. His father was divorced from his mother when he was very young. His mother had him committed to an institution when he was 9. He is comparable to John Wayne Gacy in the sense that he was both attracted to and killed young boys. Two of his victims were found hidden in the concrete of his basement.

145- Bobby Joe Maxwell- Maxwell was also known as the Skid Row Stabber, and is thought to have murdered 10 homeless men throughout a one year span. Maxwell had previously served time in jail for robbery. Once his apartment was searched the police found knives which matched the description of the weapon thought to have been used by the killer. His cellmate reports Maxwell told him he killed in order to obtain souls for Satan. However, in 2010 his conviction was overturned because of faulty information which was allowed in the trail.

146- Mendenhall- Mendenhall was married with two daughters. He drove a truck and this is how he came across his victims, for the most part he killed prostitutes and young women. His wife died a natural death while he was in jail, a situation which left him with money to try and hire fellow prisoners to try and kill people who were going to testify against him. They were meant to die in a similar fashion than Mendehalls victims in an attempt to confuse those investigating the case and make them believe the real killer was still free. Mendenhall has lived in jail since he was arrested in 2007 and was convicted to 30 years in jail for conspiracy.

N

147-Earle Nelson "Gorilla Man"- He would choose a house displaying a "Rooms for Rent" sign, gain access by posing as a prospective renter, and if he found a woman alone in the house he would choke her to death, assault the body and then stuff it under a bed before stealing jewelry and clothing.

After being orphaned, his maternal grandparents brought him up in a strict puritan environment that regarded sex as dirty. He was placed in an insane asylum, which he escaped from multiple times.

148- Sherman Noble- His victims were all beat to death with a hammer. Noble was quoted as saying "a messenger from the Lord, sent to Earth to do away with dope dealers, homosexuals and old men who were poisoning the children".

149- Gordon Stewart Northcott "Ape Man"- This killer's victims were young boys who were forced to be sex slaves. Northcott and his mother would take turns whacking their victims with an ax.

O

P

150- Carl Panzram "Prisoner 7390"- a serial killer among other things, Panzram was also an arsonist, rapist and burglar.

151- Ivan L. Page- Page was convicted for the murder of 3 prostitutes in Michigan. His conviction was based on DNA evidence which linked him to the sweater which was used to kill one of the victims. Page had been involved with small crime before and claimed he was incapable of such heinous acts.

152- Gerald Parker "Bedroom Basher" "Bludgeon Killer" - DNA evidence has released a man that was wrongfully convicted for these murders and had served 16 years for the murder of his unborn child.

153- Robert Parker- Parker was accused of robbing and killing three women, his ex-girlfriend said he confessed to her but his lawyers claim it's a case of false allegations. After the killings he got home with food, wine, and $30 in coins as well as peppers which he dropped inside and around his apartment in order to avoid being found. He stuffed all the food inside a duffle bag which belonged to one of the victims and was later on found inside his home.

154- Reginald Wendell Perkins- Perkins was convicted for the murder of his stepmother, rape of a 12 year old girl and the murder of two other victims. He has a history of raping minors; he was convicted and sentenced to death. He was executed in 2009.

155- Christopher Peterson "Shotgun Killer" "Obadyah Ben-Yisrayl"- Peterson was 21 at the time of the murder and he killed his victims during the evenings with a sawed off shotgun. The shotgun was found in his home, which was searched with his mother's consent. He was sentenced to death but commuted to life in prison.

156- Antwan Pittman- Pittman was also known as the Edgecombe County Serial killer and the Seven Bridges Killer. During his killing spree ten women went missing and eight bodies were found. Pittman's victims were all black and had a history of prostitution. He was convicted of first degree murder for the death of Taraha Nicholson and sentenced to life without parole.

157- Harry Powers aka Herman Drenth- Drenth killed for pleasure and profit, he mainly worked in West Virginia where he would correspond with lonely women and passed himself off as a wealthy widower who had a very busy life and was unable to meet women in more conventional ways. He promised his correspondent's money, devotion, love and once the women fell for him he would kill them. It is unknown exactly how many women he was able to trick but was arrested and jailed in 1931 after his relatives became worried with his activities. As the police conducted their investigation they found the body of two women and five children in the drainage system of his Quiet Dell hideaway. Once he confessed and word spread of the crimes he had committed a mob tried to break into jail and kill him, he was hung three months later.

158- Michael Player- The police found Player in a motel room after having committed suicide with the .38-caliber rifle that he used on his victims. Player killed 10 men execution style in the back of the head. An eleventh victim who survived was able to identify Player as the killer.

159- Craig Price "Slasher of Warwick"- Craig Price was born on October 11th 1973. He killed four individuals during 1987 to 1989. His victims were from Warwick, Rhode Island and this is how he got his name the "Slahser or Warwick". He killed a woman in 1987 and then a few years later killed a mother and her two children. He was arrested and tried as a minor, as he committed his crimes before his 16th birthday. His case was responsible for allowing the State of Rhode Island to change the law and allow juveniles to be tried as adults for particularly heinous crimes.

160- Cleophus Prince "Chairmont Killer"- Prince would burglarize a house then rape the woman inside and kill her afterwards. He was caught when one of his victims heard him picking the locks and escaped out of a window. She was able to get one of her friends to control Prince, and the description lead to his arrest. It is believed he followed his victims from the gym and waited until they showered to catch them by surprise. He was sentenced to death.

161- Marion A Pruett "Mad Dog Killer" - Pruett as a 10th grader was known as a hero, saving his brother and three others by jumping into a runaway bus and stopping it. He killed his cellmate in prison, was placed into the witness protection program and killed four people while under the program.

Q

R

162- Rafeal Matrutino Resrendiz "Railway Killer" - Resrendiz used trains to travel the country brutally killing. He made it to the 457th fugitive on the FBI's 10 most wanted list. Using Resrendiz's sister agents were able to apprehend this killer.

163- Dennis Rader "BTK Killer" - Rader became known as the BTK killer because he would leave letters taunting the authorities and sign it BTK which stands for bound Torture Kill. He was apprehended years after his murders had stopped because he emailed police from his church's computer.

164- Yusef Rahman- Rahaman was a paranoid schizophrenic who believed the shootings he partook in were part of a military operation. He was sentenced to life in prison.

165- Richard Ramirez "Night Stalker"- one of the most heinous killers, he had no specific type of victim, he killed men women children and the elderly. Ramirez would invade the homes of his victims and murder them.

166- David Parker Ray "Box Toy Killer"- This killer had a sex dungeon trailer that he used to torture women for hours at a time. One of his victims had escaped and was found naked with a collar around her neck.

167- Melvin David Rees "Sex Beast"- Rees was a serial killer who murdered in Maryland and Virginia between 1957 and 1959. Before being apprehended he was known for his talent and passion in music. He played various instrument and wanted to pursue a career in music. However, he is also known for the rape and murder of several women.

168- Paul Dennis Reid "Fast Food Killer"- Reid was a delusional man who moved to Nashville to be a country music singer, he had plastic surgery to make him look better but had very disturbing eyes. He would rob fast food restaurants and kill the people working at the restaurants.

169- Stephen Lee Richards “Nebraska Fiend” Richards killed 9 people and was executed in 1879

170- Earl Richmond- This killer committed a triple homicide against his best friend's wife, strangling her young son and her daughter. This did not stop him from attending the funeral and even being a pallbearer at the funeral. Later DNA evidence showed that Richmond had raped the victim connecting him with the triple homicide. He had also killed a woman prior to this act. The defense of this killer was that he was under the influence of alcohol and crack cocaine and the troubled childhood he was brought up with, despite his defense strategy he was sentenced to death by lethal injection.

171- Gary Ridgeway “Green River Killer”- Ridgeway who seemed very normal would kill prostitutes because he hated them and because he didn't like paying for sex so he would have sex with their corpses.

172- David Roberts-

182- Harvey Miguel Robinson is one of the youngest serial killers; he was arrested when he was 18 years old. He raped and killed three women in Pennsylvania, but authorities suspect there could be more unknown victims. He was linked to his crimes through DNA evidence. He was sentenced to death but the sentence was revised to life in prison due to his age. His youngest victim was raped, and was only 5 years old.

173- Alfred Lee Robinson- Not much information is available on Alfred Robinson, he is currently incarcerated in Florida and is a registered sex offender.

174- John Edward Robinson “Slave Master”- This killer had a chronic history of embezzling money and breaking probation.

175- Glenn Rodgers “Cross Country Killer”- Rodgers was highly mobile, he killed in several different states. Recently there has been a documentary that claims that Rodgers is actually the one responsible for the murder of O.J. Simpson's ex wife Nicole Brown Simpson and her friend Ron Goldman.

176- Danny Rolling “Campus Killer”- Rolling murdered 5 college students in 3 days decapitating two of them leaving the head of a victim on a bookshelf while the body was propped up in a sitting position.

177- Robert Rozier- NFL football player for the Arizona Cardinals this man was a member of the cult known as “The Brotherhood”. He pleaded guilty and testified against the leader of the cult leaving him with a meager 22 years in prison.

178- Edward Rulloff “The Educated Murderer”- Rulloff was a very well-known philologist and serial killer. He had the second largest brain to ever be recorded and is currently on display at Cornell University. He served two years in prison for embezzlement and once paroled educated himself, and was particularly gifted in linguistics. He was hung for the murder of three individuals.

180- George Waterfield Russell- Russell's Father abandoned him as well as his Stepfather. He was interested in white women although they would often reject him. He was involved in necrophilia with his three victims who were all white women. He would arrange their naked bodies in bizarre positions with objects inserted in them.

S

181- Alberto Sanchez-

181- Marc Sappington "the Kansas City Vampire"- This young black killer looked up to Jeffery Dhamer but used schizophrenia as a defense. Sappington who was on the drug PCP throughout his 4-day killing spree would drink the blood and eat the flesh of his victims, claiming that voices were telling him to do these acts.

182- Tommy Lynn Sells "Coast to Coast- Sells hitchhiked, stole cars and jumped freight trains to travel cross country from the 1970s – 90s. It's difficult to have a reliable estimate of how many people he killed because he did not keep track in anyway. Sells committed his murders when he was in a very emotional state. He confessed to killing one of his victims after they had consensual sex, and said he killed her because he caught her stealing from him.

183- Beoria Simmons- Beoria killed broke up with his girlfriend, who he accused of being a prostitute and started to kill women who looked like his ex-girlfriend. They were usually out in the early hours of the morning. When he found them he would rape and then kill them in an attempt to "get rid" of the girls he assumed were prostitutes. He did not understand why people were so angry; he claimed he was doing everyone a favor by getting rid of the people who were spreading STDs.

184- Ray dell Sims- Sexually assaulted and murdered five girls between 1971 and 1974. He was could not have been sentenced to death because the murders happened before capital punishment was re-instated in California, and was thus sentenced to life with the possibility of parole.

185- Gary Sinegal- Sinegal confessed to killing two elderly women and stuffing the bodies into the closet. He was originally sentenced to 22 years in prison for armed robbery and an attack on an elderly lady. He was later sentenced to life with parole.

187- Charles Schmid "Pied Piper of Tucson"- Schmid was a ladies man who female attention as well as killing women. During a night of binge drinking he told one of his friends he wanted to kill a girl, and he murdered a 15 year old high school student later that night. When the police questioned him about the girl he said he meant to meet up with her at the party but by the time he had arrived she was already gone. His friend and accomplice backed up his story. He murdered a total of 3 girls and was sentenced to death. However, he died at the hands of two fellow inmates who stabbed him to death.

188- Robert Franklin Smallwood Jr. -

189- Lemuel Warren Smith- Smith was raised in a very religious African American home led by his mother and father. He was mentally and physically abused by his father in an attempt to instill religion in him. Smith spent 22 years in prison for assault, once released he started to rape and murder again, killing a total of 5 women and sentenced to life in prison.

190- Morris SOLOMAN- Solomon was raised in Georgia with a physically abusive grandmother and his brothers. Once his family moved to Solomon he began to spend more time with his parents, who were also dysfunctional and would abuse each other in front of the children. After college he served in Vietnam, once he returned he married and became a father. He eventually got divorced, and at this time the killings started. Solomon made a report which led the authorities to Yolanda Johnson's body. Other bodies soon came to light and the police concluded the acts were done by the same individual. He was convicted of six murders and sentenced to death.

191- Anthony Sowell- Sowell killed 11 women in Ohio; He pled not guilty by reason of mental insanity but changed his plea to not guilty as the crime progressed. He was sentenced to death in 2011, but is still fighting to have his sentenced changed to life in prison and claims he did not have a fair trial because of all the media attention his case received.

192- Timothy Spencer- Spencer killer 4 individuals during a three year span, and is believed to have killed another individual who's trial wrongfully convicted David Vasquez. Spencer was the first killer to be convicted on DNA evidence in the U.S.

193- Jack Owen Spillman- Spillman had 3 victims including a mother and daughter which he sexually mutated after killing them; he also murdered a 9 year old girl. He became a suspect after the police noticed his car matched the description a witness gave of a vehicle they saw near one of the crime scenes. He confessed after being threatened with the death penalty. He had other charges including rape, and burglary, and was sentenced to life in prison.

194- Cary Stayner- Stayner grew up in California with his parents and brother, who was at one point kidnapped by Kenneth Panrnelly, a child molester. His brother eventually escaped and was reunited with his family, but Stayner reported to have felt very neglected by his parents during the time of his brothers disappearance. His brother would later die in 1989 during a motorcycle accident. After his brother's death Stayner reports having been molested by his uncle when he was 11 and become involved with drugs and a suicide attempt.

He found his victims while he was working at Cedar Lodge motel, but was not considered to be a suspect of the investigation conducted by police officers until a witness reported seeing his car at the scene of the crime. Stayner plead not guilty by reason of mentally insanity attributed to his sexual abuse, difficulty home life, and mental illness. The doctor who testified said Stayner was a pedophile, socially dysfunctional, mildly autistic and had hints of mental illness and sexual abuse showing up throughout his family history, but was found sane enough to stand trial and was sentenced to death.

195-Paul M. Stephanie "Weepy Voiced Killer"- Stephani killed three people from 1980 to 1982. He is known as the Weepy voiced killed because of well known emotional phone calls the police would receive to report the attack. During his calls to the police Stephanie would talk about all the details of the murder and ask the police to stop him because he could not stop himself. He apologized for the crimes and asked for their help.

196- Winford Stokes- Stokes was executed in Missouri for the murder of a woman in 1978. He exhausted his appeals and requests to block the execution but was executed through lethal injection.

197- Michael Swango "Dr. Death"- Michael came from parents of divorce, and was especially close to his mother. He was said to be an extremely good student, and graduated with honors from both high school and undergrad. After having served time in the military he became a doctor, graduating from Southern Illinois University School of Medicine. He had some problems regarding his OBGY rotation and was almost expelled but was allowed to re-do several assignments before allowed to graduate. His killings were committed through poisoning or medical means

198-James E. Swann- Swann was known to pull up next to his victims while driving and open fire on them. He attacked a total of 14 people but was found to be not guilty by reason of insanity and was confide to Saint Elizabeths Hospital. He claimed to have committed these acts of violence due to the voices in his head which said his victims were responsible. After being admitted into the mental hospital Swann displayed no further signs of aggression or acted out against another individual.

T

199- Kevin Taylor- Taylor plead guilty and was sentenced to 50 years in prison for the murder of 4 drug addicted prostitute women in 2001. His defense used his troubled past as the son of a drug addicted mother and convict father, and further involvement in the foster care system to explain why he committed these crimes. He would pay for the women's company and strangle them after becoming angry during sex; he apologized to the families of the victims during the trial and fully cooperated with the authorities during investigations.

200- Michael Terry- Terry killed a total of 6 victims during his one year reign. He was known to execute male prostitutes after having sex with them, but during his trial claimed he killed his victims as an act of self-defense because they took advantage of him. We sentenced to life without parole.

201- Brandon Tholmer- Tholmer killed and raped 4 elderly ladies in Los Angeles, CA who lived within a mile of his apartment. He is believed to have killed another 7 elderly women but there is not enough evidence to support these claims. He stabbed, strangled, beat, sodomized his victims and towards the end of his crime wave he began to set their homes on fire. Tholmer escaped the gas chamber because of he was diagnosed as borderline retarded and had spent his entire life institutionalized and was known to be in and out of trouble from age 11.

202- John Floyd Thomas Jr.- Thomas mother died when he was 12 and so he was raised by his aunt and grandmother. After high school he served in the Air-force and was dishonorably discharged. After which time he was in and out of the criminal justice system until arrested in 2009 for the murder of 5 people. He plead guilty in order to avoid the death penalty and was sentenced to life without parole.

203- Murray Travis-This man was known to have committed 2 murders but could have killed up to 20, he had a torture dungeon at his residence where there were belts with blood on them, a stun gun, and newspaper clippings of his victims. He was found hanging in his prison cell after being arrested. He has himself on video killing one of the women.

204- Emerson Tucker, aka "John turner"- Tucker has a history of convictions in New Jersey ranging from murder, possession of illegal weapons and aggravated assault, he served 16 years in prison for these crimes. Once he was paroled he killed a total of three people, the FBI was able to match his prints to those found in the scene of the crimes.

205- Chester turner- Raised by his mother, Turner dropped out of high school and started working for Domino's as a cook and delivery boy. He lived with his mother until she moved to Utah, at which time Turner became homeless and alternated between homeless shelters, missions, and the streets. He was convicted of killing 10 women in LA, and sentenced to death. After this sentence was given he was convicted of an additional 4 murders; a crime for which another individual was already incarcerated for.

U

V

W

206- Clarence Walker- Originally convicted of manslaughter at the age of 14 and spent 7 years in prison. After he was paroled he traveled extensively and served two more terms in prison in Ohio for armed robbery and larceny. It is believed he killed a total of 14 people as he passed through Cleveland, Michigan, and Illinois and raped some of his victims. He was finally sentenced to 320 years.

207- Alexander Wayne Watson Jr.- Watson was convicted to 5 life sentenced for the murder of four people. He was given a deal which meant he would avoid the death penalty under the condition he met and spoke to the families of his victims and answered questions they might have. He was initially serving a life prison sentence but the authorities were able to match DNA evidence from the other cases which showed Watson was responsible for the murders of three more people.

208- James P. Watson "Bluebeard"- Bluebeard would put out ads which looked for a young lady or widow to marry. He provided a short introduction and mentions his many good qualities and perks which would come from marrying him. Many women answered these ads, he presented himself to be wealthy, well connected, and a gentleman, but in reality he is one of the most prolific and least documented murderers in history. Once he married, he would ask their families for money in order to invest it, and would pose as a Secret Service agent to excuse his long absences. In reality, he would tend to other wives having as many as four a time. He would invite his wife on a camping trip and then kill her. When Watson believed one of the bodies was found he made a deal and confessed, and was sentenced to jail and died of pneumonia.

209- Coral Eugene Watts "Sunday Morning Slasher" at age 15 he was the number one suspect for a brutal murder with 33 stab wounds but police did not have enough evidence.

210- Henry Louis Wallace- Grew up in South Carolina and was raised by his mother who was a school teacher. His father walked out on the family when he found out she was pregnant. His mother was a harsh disciplinarian and constantly criticized her son but was not considered to be particularly abusive. He went to college and joined the Navy, during which time he experimented with drugs and started burglarizing homes. He usually robbed from the victim before stabbed or choked them to death. While on Death Row he married his wife.

211- Nathaniel White- White killed 6 individuals from 1991 to 1992. He confessed to beating and stabbing six women while he was on parole. He said his first murder was inspired by the movie "Robocop" and that he imitated the murder to the best of his abilities.

212- Nicholas Wiley- Wiley raped and killed 3 people during a 1 month span in 2004. He was convicted and sentenced to LWOP in 2006. Later in 2009 he filed an appeal and rejected his allegations of coercion by police officers in charge of his investigation. Later on his convictions were overturned on two cases by the Rochester Court and sent him back to jail with shorter sentences.

213- Edward Charles Wilkins Jr.- Wilkins faced three consecutive life sentences for the murder of three prostitutes. Even though DNA evidence, a taped confession, and murder weapon were provided during trial the defense argued that Edward Wilkins Jr was innocent, and the person who committed these horrible murders was his father, Wilkins Sr. He was convicted and sentenced to three consecutive life sentences for the murder of Charles Bolden, Jon Wiggins and Jan Pringle.

214- John Williams Jr.- Williams had a low IQ of 80, and was said to have been mentally disturbed due to sexual abuse he endured as a child. Even though his lawyers used his low IQ and mental issues as the defense he was sentenced to death in 1998.

215- Wayne Williams "Atlanta Child Killer"- Williams is said to have killed 23 children and 2 adults between the years 1979-1981. He first became a suspect of these crimes in May of 1981 when his car was seen by a scene of the crime, he was questioned and reported to be on his way to audition a singer. After a few days a body was found in the river and matching fibers would later be found on the victim and Williams car, home and dog. There were also witnesses who were able to report seeing Williams and the victims together while the victims were still alive. Many people, including family members of the victims, did not believe he was capable of committing these crimes and ordered the reopening of the murder cases of four boys, but was ultimately sentenced to LWOP.

216- Anthony Wimberly- While in trial Wimberly's jury was deadlocked because of one member's religious beliefs, this caused for the judge to call for a mistrial. This juror reported to be able to make a decision without letting their religion affect their ruling, but seemed to have change their mind after a “messenger of God” testified on Wimberley’s behalf during the penalty phase.

217- David Wood “Desert Killer”- Had a troubled childhood abused by mother, parents divorced and he and his brother were placed into foster homes. He suffered a possible learning disability.

218- Randall Woodfield “the I-5 Killer”- All of Woodfields crimes were committed near the Interstate 5 corridor. He murdered 18 people and is thought to have killed more. He was also suspected of sexual assaults on many individuals during his killing spree from 1979 to 1971. He also drafted to play wide receiver for the Green Bay packers in the early 1970s but did not make the final roster.

X

Y

219- Robert Lee Yates “The Spokane Serial Killer”- Yates was born in Washington in 1952 and is responsible for the murder of 16 people. These murders took place between 1975 and 1998. He is well known for killing prostitutes on Spokane’s Skid Row.

220- Donald E. Young jr.- Younge had been convicted of a variety of crimes, he was in an out of jail for a big part of his life. DNA was used in his case which confirmed a match in a rape which took place in 1996. Though a few cases in which he was accused of rape, and murder were dropped, he killed a variety of different people including prostitutes and is best known for the murder of Amy Quinton, a University student.

Z